Winter Song

Lindisfarne

When winter's shadowy fingers First pursue you down the street And your boots no longer lie About the cold around your feet Do you spare a thought for summer whose passage is complete? Whose memories lie in ruins And whose ruins lie in heat? When winter... Comes howling in

When the wind is singing strangely
Blowing music through your head
And your rain splattered windows
Make you decide to stay in bed
Do you spare a thought for the homeless tramp who wishes he was dead?
Or do you pull the bed-clothes higher
Dream of summertime instead?
When winter...
Comes howling in

The creeping cold has fingers That caress without permission And mystic crystal snowdrops Only aggravate the condition Do you spare one thought for the gypsy with no secure position? Who's turned and spurned by village and town At the magistrate's decision? When winter... Comes howling in

When the turkey's in the oven And the Christmas presents are bought And Santa's in his module He's an American astronaut Do you spare one thought for Jesus, who had nothing but his tho ughts? Who got busted just for talking And befriending the wrong sorts? When winter... Comes howling in

When winter... Comes... Howling... In
