

That's The Way Love Goes

Lindsey Buckingham

I'd like to take your pain away
Away, away, away
I'd like to take your shame away
Away, away, away

I lie alone and watch you sleep
I'd reach for you but I might weep
If you should tell me I must keep
Away, away, away

In the dungeon couldn't believe it no
Took a look and then saw your secret
Oh, oh, oh
That's the way that love goes
It goes, it goes.
In the dungeon couldn't believe it no
I took a look and then I saw your secret
Oh, oh, oh
That's the way that love goes
It goes, it goes.

I'd like to take your pain away
Away, away, away
Behind your shade the color's fade
Away, away, away

The diamond falls, the hand is dealt
Upon the shrine where we once knelt
Oh how I wish this veil could melt
Away away away

In the dungeon couldn't believe it no
Took a look and then I saw your secret
Oh, oh, oh
That's the way that love goes
It goes, it goes,
In the dungeon couldn't believe it no
I took a look and then I saw your secret
Well, oh, oh, oh
That's the way that love goes
It goes it goes

In the dungeon couldn't believe it no
I took a look and then I saw your secret
Well, oh, oh, oh
That's the way that love goes
It goes, it goes.

It goes, it goes, it goes, it goes
It goes, it goes, it goes, it goes
It goes, it goes, it goes, it goes
It goes, it goes, it goes

I'd like to take your pain away
Away, away, away
I'd like to take your shame away
Away, away, away
