

A One Song Band

Liquido

this is it
the story of a lifetime
waiting on some step back, hatcheck, fat cat well, nevertheless
I saw the girl at the bar caught her eye, got a glimpse sha had an empty jar (what an aspect!)
so I went up to her saying
"hey there, I'm sorry for my english but I know it from school and some songs I translated.
you might know my songs from tv they pick it up again when they teach a keys rookie" she said
"no way, you still exist?
I haven't heard your records in years and years and years...! well, you know, I'm rather into robbie williams, beck the breeders and other so called majority leaders and I don't know what the other brother said as we don't know what motherfucker read about the twilight flicker the big city slicker and I will never say that I am not the one to keep my eyes too shut

my ears too def
my hair too long
and my record too song,
hey!

they loved me once
but denied me uncountable
so hard to be
a one hit wonder

I hit them once
but failed them uncountable
it's so hard (to be)
a one song band

ain't no big deal
cleaning some windshield
whatever will come?
what is never done?
how much do you make a year
how much in a month
have you ever made some plan or what?
and your an old one, cold one bold as a chicken
playing not your rickenbacker anymore and you're a lousy washed-up broken down
tub of guts
overrated maniac
drunkard, gone nuts
out in the right place

sticking in a basket.
so what's the point? she said.
you will never blast it once you were their puss in boots now don't let the cat out don't you let that fat cat out!

a one hit wonder

and it's so hard
a one hit song

a one hit wonder

a one song band
