Liquido

've been acting here creating things from 9 to 5 Those days were passin by and then it popped into my mind Whom are you kidding now, well I turn back and walk away I really liked the way we spent our time on sundays You fell into my world so suddenly with your sweet talks My gain was crashing down. you celebrate your walk. i held your tidings in my hand more than a hundred times you break it down, you stick it up, you'll be my triple AAA

Mercury

a cosmic transit line you shine like a dying star on tv Discovery
exploration out of mind you shine like a dying star on the screen so in the morning at the door she hid my tongue away enduring ignorance, complete commitment, by the way many humiliating photos in your pocketbook cannot deflect how much i liked your looks in many years I underlined what is my favourite nobody else will be my brand new scheme behind it not living up to what is meant or what i'll ever be delivering and promising and mothering. it's mental
