

Gone

Lisa Marie Presley

Well, what do we have here daddy?
The lights are quickly changing
Will I leave your heart along
With the phone lines you're erasing?
What a spineless ending
Well, who would have guessed dear daddy?
Turned out to be a coward
When I turned my back
you cut my throat it bled for hours
Was that your power?

You, you're the lovely victim again
You, well your heart is breaking - you
You are the only one let down
Are you really now

Well, soon here we'll have dear daddy
With the next one on her knees
And she's gonna call him daddy
Like the rest of them, like me
How easy it will be replacing me
And what's that I hear now daddy
You're blaming it all on me
Another she did you wrong
And of course you had to leave
And the yes men will agree
You gave it everything

You with the advisors in your ear
You did everything right it's clear
You...I know I begged you to stay around
But I'm gone now

Well, here's to you my darling leave
You're stubborn and you're free and of course, right
I don't respect the way you leave
You can be no friend to me
I'll say...I'll say goodbye

You, you're the lovely victim again
You, well your heart is breaking - you
You are the only one let down
Are you really now

You with the advisors in your ear
You did everything right it's clear
You...I know I begged you to stay around
But I'm gone now

You...I'm gone now
