

Heroin

Lisa Mitchell

Coffee, coffee you're my heroine
You open my eyes better than anyone

Oh when I've done all the things that I wanna do
Make sure I'm buried next to somebody I'd like to talk to

Oh she lives again

Well Ezmerelda you're my heroine
The way she dances is cooler than anyone

Oh when I've done all the things that I wanna do
Make sure I'm buried next to somebody who likes to argue

Oh she lives again

Edith Piaf now she's my heroine
A bolder sparrow there has never been

Oh when I've done all the things I wanna do
Make sure I'm buried next to somebody I'd like to talk to

Oh she lives again

Hey Charlie, Oh Charlie you're my heroine
Technically a he, but he is quite feminine

Oh when I've done all the things I wanna do
Make sure I'm buried next to somebody who likes to argue

Oh he lives again

And little red rider now she's my heroine
A fiercer shade of red I've never seen

When I've sung all the songs I wanna sing
Make sure you hold onto the lady with the blue ring

Oh she lives again

First sign of spring oh you're my heroine
You've left mightiness high high as anyone

So after I've sung all the songs that I wanna sing
I'll be glad the seasons always have their change to bring