

Sometimes I Feel Like Alice

Lisa Mitchell

Well, sometimes I feel like Alice
In a wonderland chasing rabbits
Cheshire cats and mad hatters
A better world but it's not like it matters
Oh, no

Well, day breaks and light fills the darkest room
The air is laced with a sweet perfume
What is it about morning light
That makes everything feel all right, all right, yeah

Because it feels like I have just woke up
In a world where down is up
And up is a long way from here
And the big wheels, well they keep on turning
They don't slow down

You just keep on learning
Yeah, you keep on learning

Oh, oh
Well, my name's not Alice but I know how she felt
When her world started turning
Into something else, yeah
Something else, oh, else, yeah

Yeah, sometimes I feel like Alice
In a wonderland chasing rabbits
Cheshire cats and mad hatters
A better world but it's not like it matters