

Warhol

Lisa Mitchell

I've got your wallet and a noose around my neck
I made these orders venom deep in the hay day
But it's a matter for a weakling infant
Warhol I need you here

There's a four letter word in my head
I heard the voices see they're leaving after it
There's a void that doesn't leak if you need
Warhol I need you here

Oh in the dark, in the light, our hearts run wild and far away
I saw the shadows in the water under perfect sky
And I heard you sing the devil a lullaby

Oh, there's a fire in the book yeah I can't ignore
I heard the witches in the woods, yeah they're keeping score
There's a father in the Maverick and dead
Warhol now it's over to you

Oh in the dark, in the light, our hearts run wild and far away
I saw the shadows in the water under perfect sky
And I heard you sing the devil a lullaby

Oh, all you need to say
(All you need to say, all you need to say)
Oh, all you need to say
(All you need to say, all you need to say)
Yeah, all you need to say
Oh, it's an awful lot to lose if it's all that you want

And hearts, yeah yeah
From the store, yeah yeah
I'll take it all apart, yeah yeah, in the light and in the dark

Oh in the dark, and in the light, our hearts run wild and far away
I saw the shadows in the water under perfect sky
When I heard you sing the devil a lullaby

All you need to say
All you need to say
All you need to say
Perfect sky, and I heard you sing the devil a lullaby
All you need to say
All you need to say
All you need to say
All you need to say
