

Conversation

Lisa Stansfield

There's no room for words
In this conversation yet
Cause when you stop the world
It's gonna start up spinnin' twice as fast
And it may not last too long

So grab it while you can
And hold on tight in case we fall
Take me by the hand
Pull me through what's been and gone
Let go, once and for always

You've got to give a little
Love a little
Cope with little struggle when your heart gets
Broke a little
And when it's cold outside
And you're aching for a flame
With love in your heart to give again and again
Don't give up looking, babe
Don't give up hope, babe
Don't give up

There's no wound to feel
So sorry for your sin now
What hearts would hear
So don't go shouting off your mouth
Hold on, once and for always

You've got to give a little
Love a little
Cope with little struggle when your heart gets
Broke a little
And when it's cold outside
And you're aching for a flame
With love in your heart to give again and again
Don't give up looking, babe
Don't give up hope, babe
Don't give up looking, babe
Don't give up hope, babe
Don't give up

So hold on!
Once and for always
Just love a little, love a little
Cope with little struggle when your heart gets
When it's cold outside and you're aching for a flame
With love in your heart to give again and again
Don't give up looking, babe
Don't give up hope
Don't give up prayin
Don't give up looking, babe
Now don't give up
