

Sun Keeps Risin'

Lissie

In the quiet hours, when the lights are out
And my mind is free to wander
As the embers burn and the planets turn
We just carry on, I wonder

How the sun keeps rising anyway
And I still think of you every day
In a better place
That's what they say

All those photographs of the life we had
Doesn't seem so long ago
And the children born since you've been gone
I wish you had the chance to know

But the sun keeps rising anyway
And I still think of you every day
I hope that you're OK
Are you OK?

But the sun keeps rising anyway
You're in a better place
That's what they say
