Trouble will find you she's an awfully cunning bird. and progre ss it blinds you it's in every lesson learned. Failure leaves m ore room for improvement masquerading as time well spent. Hones ty is a noble tool I'm gonna learn to use it wisely. Reason out weighs the rules when I lead with you behind me. Loyalty sadly held prisoner and pity is her only visitor. I want to live for a living, buddy I want to live for a living my five year plan.

Well I'm going to iron out all of life's disappointing wrinkles . Cover them with plastic when it pours we won't feel he sprink les. and of course I want to grow but brother this is all I kno w. I want to live for a living. I want to live for a living my five year plan. I've given my all, it's all that I have. I've given my all my all my five year plan.

We'll build a tiny quiet god to hold us console us, and buy a house that's made of hate. It will burn you and turn you. Practice makes a path towards a new start. I'll pack the ice around my stone heart. Accomplishment is the cross we'll bear I'll wear it like a coat. All dressed up in achievement responsibility a round my throat. Squinting hard to see the finish line with one eye on the bottom line. I want to live for a living I'm gonna live for a living my five year plan....My five year plan.

Hindsight is a priceless jewel but I've never been one for clar ity. I'm gonna hold fast to all I know even if it's just barley . and of course I want to grow, but sister this is all I know. I'm gonna live for a living. I'm gonna live for a living my five year plan. My five year plan. I've give n my all, it's all that I have. I've given my all my all my five year plan.
