

Love is where I'd like to spend time away from you
Lost the weakest part of this
Taking over me
I can't ease your mind
And nothing goes away
Harder to move on
And easy to stay away
Float above the world
And yet still I can't find it
Then I burn myself in wax
Jesus candle red
You can ease your mind
And it will be your friend We should disappear
And then we won't fade away
I can't go on can't get away
All that I love is part of my pain
Giving up or let's watch our lives taken away
Our love is dead,
but can't find a grave
Giving up
