

A Little More You

Little Big Town

Don't you want to dive on in?
Yeah, the water feels right
Dancing on the edge of love
You're a beautiful sight

So why you still standing there in the half moon light?
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
You're battling those baby blues, and, honey, I swear

The way you got me needing you, girl, it just ain't fair
You've given me a little bit, yeah, but don't stop there
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
I'm here falling for ya; my heart's calling for ya

I know I never can get enough
Don't hold back one bit of your love
Strong and steady for ya, I'm all ready
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
Come on, baby, give me a little more
You're teasing me with a touch and the whole world shakes

Keep holding that river back and the levee may break
There's only so much of this a boy can take
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
I'm here falling for ya, my heart's calling for ya

I know I never can get enough
Don't hold back one bit of your love
Strong and steady for ya, I'm all ready
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
Come on, baby, give me a little more you
Come on, baby, give me a little more
