China White

I said blow away, blow away This cruel reality And keep me from its storm Suspicion has crept in, and ruined my life I'm messed up, and hassled, and worn

Well its pure indignation Just another sensation And I'd like to knock on that door But the boy he keeps on callin' for more

Yes and my sweet China White She ain't here tonight And love has robbed me blind

So cast away, cast away From this ball full of pain For it sinks beneath the waves

Yes and my sweet China White She ain't here tonight

Oh and love has robbed me blind Some sweet morphine has robbed me blind
