

Guiding Light

Little River Band

I've changed my mind,
Things don't really seem so bad this time,
I've learned my lesson though it hurt my pride.

So on we go,
Crazy rockin' rollin' rodeo,
I need you more now than I did before.
Changing my point of view is teaching me something new

Guiding light I need you here tonight,
I'm walking in the dark alone,
Close the door, a thousand years or more,
Until my guiding light comes shining through.

Morning star how you found me wandering near and far,
This wounded memory wears like a scar.
They all say time will heal,
But they don't know how I feel

Guiding light I need you here tonight,
I'm walking in the dark alone,
Close the door, a thousand years or more,
Until my guiding light comes shining through.
Comes shining through, shining through, comes shining through
