

The Strength to Hold On

Live

All I wanted and had hoped to see
Was too days away
And all the things you ever took from me
Hits your eyes

This looming, numbing feeling comforts me
It's your eyes
It seems so worthless now for me to say
I fear it's too late for me (or being)

Is it too late?

You wrapped your life in line
When everything was fine
You ride our sun on fire
You have the strength to hold on

If I could go back and not hesitate
Would you wait for me?

Would you wait for me?

You wrapped your life in line
When everything was fine
Now it's just not the same
Only yourself to blame
You ride our sun on fire
And have the strength to hold on

Cause all I wanted and had hoped to see
Is it too late?

You wrapped your life in line
When everything was fine
Now it's just not the same
Only yourself to blame
You ride our sun on fire
And have the strength to hold on

You ride our sun on fire
You have the strength to hold on
Now it's just not the same
Only yourself to blame
You ride our sun on fire
You have the strength to hold on
Hold on...
