

In Your Light

Living With Lions

This is a heartfelt fuck you!
I bit my tongue,
I bit right through the skin.
It got so thin.
From all the times,
From all the places.
Complaining and wasted.
You got used to how it tasted.

It's bright out for,
Bright out for you.
The more you dive deeper you dig.
Eventually your light will fade away,
Disappear, keep on hearing what you wanna hear.
I bit my tongue.
I bit right through the skin.
It got so thin.

If I can't see what follows the dark.
I'm hoping it lies with only a spark.
Whats coming? Whats coming?
If you think I can't see through the night.
Your hope isn't bright in all of your light.
Whats coming? Whats coming?

Even if you think,
Your right.
I know,
You're wrong.
Spark the match,
And light the fire.
Burn the bridges,
You once walked.
Complaining and wasted.
You loved how it tasted.
All along!

It's bright out for,
Bright out for you.
The more you dive deeper you dig.
Eventually your light will fade away,
Disappear, keep on hearing what you wanna hear.
I bit my tongue.
I bit right through the skin.
It got so thin.

If I can't see what follows the dark.
I'm hoping it lies with only a spark.
Whats coming? Whats coming?
If you think I can't see through the night.
Your hope isn't bright in all of your light.
Whats coming? Whats coming?

I hope you know.
Everything is the face you are.
What goes around, comes around swingin'.
Keep spinning your ways without thinkin'.

And you need to know.
This comes straight from my heart to your soul.
What goes around, comes around swingin'.
Is this clear enough?
Put us to rest, This is the end
