The Best

You tell me . . . you need me And you'll never leave me I want to believe that it's true ('Cause) if one day . . . I woke up And found that we'd broke up No one can take the place where there was you

[Chorus] I could never fall in love again There's no way I could pretend Now that I've had the best I searched forever But it never could be better than this How could my heart forget

I'd never be the same And baby, your love's to blame How could I settle for less . . . Now that I've had the best

I know sure as I breathe That your all that I need To love you is what I'm living for Cuz you love me so deeply So strong and completely There's no one who could ever love me more

[Chorus]

I could never fall in love again There's no way I could pretend Now that I've had the best I searched forever But it never could be better than this How could my heart forget

I'd never be the same And baby, your love's to blame How could I settle for less . . . Now that I've had the best

No one else can measure up to How you give me all your love

The Best . . .

If I loved ya forever it would never be enough

[Chorus] I could never fall in love again There's no way I could pretend Now that I've had the best I've searched forever But it never could be better than this How could my heart forget

I'd never be the same

And baby, your love's to blame How could I settle for less . . . Now that I've had the best

Oh baby, your the best
