

Lucky Time

Local H

I never fail to catch the small details
Bigger things just seem to trigger things
You only know because I told you so and yeah
I guess that's fine, it's only me, now who else would it be?

With you, such a lucky time
With everything to prove
To you, it's such a lucky time
With everything to prove

I'll never be just who I want to be
I've bought into the things I'd never do
I know you know but you never tell me so
And I cannot repay, let me try to make it up to you

And soon, it's such a lucky time
With everything to prove
To you, it's such a lucky time
With everything to prove

I never fail to catch the small details
I'm catching on that nothing will last that long
You can't be shamed if you've never played their games
Around the room to play, it's only you with nothing left to prove

But I don't want to lose this lucky time
With everything to prove
To you, it's such a lucky time
With everything to prove

To you, it's such a lucky time
With everything to prove
To you, it's such a lucky time
With everything to prove

It's such a lucky time
With everything to prove
It's such a lucky time
With everything to prove
