

Up The Stairs

Locksley

I must admit, its quite a shame
I didn't even know her name but really what's a boy to do?
a rooftop party, billed for two

so listen closely, if you please
'twould help to put my mind at ease
I should recall most everything but the last thing I'm remembering

I found: the rain's coming down, no one's making a sound
Dear me. There's hundreds of people just staring at me.

we only met an hour ago
the circumstance I do not know.
she told me she could use a talk and asked me if I'd take a walk

Up the stairs -
she told me there's something to show me up there
I'm confused,
nobody's winning, we're both being used.

And what'll I say when I get home?
"it was nice"
but really I feel more alone
everyone makes mistakes but this one's not right.

Up the stairs -
she told me there's something to show me up there
I'm confused,
nobody's winning, we're both being used.
And what'll I say when I get home?
"it was nice"
but really I feel more alone
everyone makes mistakes, but this one was right.
