

Inamourada

London After Midnight

So much to give
Touch you like never before
With you I know I'll always forgive
Because no one else can give me more

Inamourada
What are you after?
It really matters to me

And I know that there are times
When all we feel is pain
Out of touch but never hard to find
You said you'd always feel the same
You said you'd never be to blame

Inamourada
What are you after?
It really matters to me
Inamourada
What are you after?
I hear your laughter
Can you be laughing at me?
