Metal & Dust

London Grammar

And so, you built a life on trust Though it starts, with love and lust And when your house, begins to rust Oh, it's just, metal and dust

We argue, we don't fight We argue, we don't fight

And all foundation that we made Built to last, they disintegrate And when your house begins to rust Oh, it's just, metal and dust

We argue, we don't fight Stay awake to the middle of the night Stay awake to the middle of the night We argue, we don't fight Stay awake to the middle of the night Stay awake to the middle of the night We don't arque We argue, we don't fight Stay awake to the middle of the night Stay awake to the middle of the night We don't argue We argue, we don't fight Stay awake to the middle of the night Stay awake to the middle of the night We don't arque We don't argue We don't arque
