

Failing In Love Again

Londonbeat

Once, once I was your warrior
Twice you were my queen
Oh hey, oh hey, hey my breakfast friend
I am failing in love again
Yeah I'm failing in love again
Once, once you were my soul hostess
Twice I was your king, oh hey
Oh hey, hey my daytime friend
I'm failing in love again
Yeah, I'm failing in love again
Then I found a . . . a piece of your broken heart
In the . . . your place baby . . . or mine shrine
Hey how can we stick together
When the greener grass
The greener grass still gets me . . . stoned
I'm failing in love again
Once, once we were the night children
Twice the blackbird sang oh hey, oh hey
And you my nightlight friend
I'm failing in love again
Said I do believe I'm failing in love again
I'm failing in love again
