

I Never Needed You

Lonestar

Here I am again,
Starin' at these unfamiliar walls.
Of some hotel so far from home.
I try my best to sleep.
I close my eyes but all this peace an' quiet,
Just reminds me I'm alone.
Let me hear your voice on the wind,
Let me feel your touch on my skin.

I never wanted you the way I want you now.
I would give anything to see your arms reach out.
I never hurt like this or felt the emptiness I feel inside.
I never needed you like I need you tonight.

All I think about,
Is how sweet you looked standin' in the doorway,
Smilin' while I brushed away your tears.
An' all I dream about,
Is the next time I can hold you,
An' I can show you all the love I'm feelin' here.
All I know, (All I know.)
Is I can't wait, (I can't wait.)
My body trembles, my heart aches.

I never wanted you the way I want you now.
I would give anything to see your arms reach out.
I never hurt like this or felt the emptiness I feel inside.
I never needed you like I need you tonight.

I never wanted you the way I want you now.
I would give anything to see your arms reach out.
I never hurt like this or felt the emptiness I feel inside.
I never needed you like I need you tonight.
Mm, mmm.
