Holy evil

Lost in a dungeon Only the dark surrounds An old mystic cave where sunlight Never bathed the grounds Candles are shimmering Phantoms dance on the walls Moving slowly over Instruments of torture They made you confess Undone sins under torture Reign of the wicked Corruption and terror How many innocents Died in this place? Death the only savior To escape all pain What happened between these walls For the church it's a shame This chamber was the gathering Of raw evil and pure hate They made you confess ... Holy evil power built by lies A plague throughout our centuries Too many people lost their lives Eaten raw by the priest
