

Lines In My Face

Lonnie Johnson

Heartaches have caused the deep lines in my face
Heartaches have caused these deep lines in my face
When you've been disappointed in love
Your heart has no resting place

Each line in my face tells a story
The tears tells you the reason why
Deep lines in my face tells a story
Teardrops tell you the reason why
When you been hurt in love
It shows on you face until the day you die

If I could take my poor heart and wash it
Wash all these aches and pains away
Yes, if I could take my poor heart out and wash it
Wash these achings and pains away
But I guess, I'm so in love
I hope she'll come back to me some day

My poor heart could talk
There's so much it could tell
Well, if my poor heart could talk
There's so much my heart could tell
When the one you love disappoints you in life
Life is a living hell
