

Land Of Broken Dreams

Loona

This is a story about a girl, whispered by the wind,
she lost her love a long time ago,
to a place within,

you can see in her eyes so beautiful, breakable, all she lost in a tear, waiting longing just for the day, & wish the wind reappeared

ooh I dedicate this song
to wherever I belong,
the silence I adore,
in the land of broken dreams

you're always in my heart, we'll never be apart,
until we meet again,
the land of broken dreams

and when there is a summer breeze, you see her outside,
waiting for hours down by the sea,
'til her hands touch the light the day will come that she'll return & then, there'll be no more tears, lika a desert full of rain again, and the wind has reappeared

to wherever I belong,
the silence I adore,

we'll never be apart,
until we meet again,

to wherever I belong,
the silence I adore,

we'll never be apart,
until we meet again,
