Looptroop Rockers

Remember yesterday, when it all seemed to be so easy think about that today when we all seem to worry so much about tomorrow what will follow can we pick up the pieces of the puzzle what a hustle this life is let's cherish the love

[Promoe]

To tell you the truth I hesitate to say that it was easier yesterday but thanks to my bad memory I only have good memories and all the rest is vague that's one of life's little mysteries how something that felt like a misery at the time but when reminiscing we laugh like we cry even though we're not missing it I mean the worst show in Looptroop history only time we got stopped by security for our own safety the crowd nearly had us lynched cus we weren't the headliners or they had had too much to drink it was fucked up at the time but now it's one of the funniest things that's why when I think about the troop I try not to think that we miss a friend and a member I think about the good times we had when I... -

I love our little home even though there's work to do we got each other right that's nr 1 and 2 and now you got a job and I've been working hard baby I don't see why that would change soon Insha Allah this is no time for doubts seems like we in our prime I want that title bout and you handle my corner fine so I got no complaints we got food on the table we're ready for our first born... you were doing good before you met me I know that for certain I was a little lost but i never lost it I was searching for your stability a reason not to get so wasted all of this other stuff's a bonus we can replace it with either more or less such a cliché I guess but that don't make us or break us I think we passed that test it's gonna be rough that I'll be gone 'til november but I was home last night and I... -

We're stressing out over things to come through they're likely to never happen or never go wrong won't make a difference anyway that's ok and i'm happy that it's been so good for this long.

Ee only put things in perspective and not only do I think it's a blessing I think it's getting close to the essence of life I know it's my message the reason I write I need to recite.
