

In the Light of the Fullmoon

Lord Belial

In the light of the fullmoon
Behold the shadow of my spirit
That spreads its wings on the ground
In the light of the fullmoon
I am immortal

High above the clouds
I could see the sun fade away
It doesn't shine no more
This beautiful night is forever and ever

In the light of the fullmoon
I behold the river of tears below
I am the enchanted one
That flies in the light of the fullmoon
The river of tears, derived from all humans in vain
In the light of the fullmoon
