

Into the Frozen Shadows

Lord Belial

I rekindle the past when obscurity absorbed this land.
With bestial rejoice.
With comprehension of corporeal dissension,
I will cast you down and mock you.
-Down on your knees!
-Die!
You feeble-minded hypocrite-behold the withdrawal,
it will resorb your righteous light and throw you into the eternal fire!
"I can see the light fading away into the frozen shadows"
Overwhelmed with fire and flames I was forlorn of hope, but now I'll reclaim my domain. Abandoned souls on a voyage to the exhumation of life revoke all the heretic ones and let them take form as dark as they used to be
"I can see the light fading away into the frozen shadows"
I throw the crucifix, in front of your so called god. I am rejoiced to see his downfall.
I mock you-righteous ones
I mock you-false dissemblers
I mock you-crawling ones
I curse you to the frozen shadows.
All those who try to come back shall be burnt at the stake. You're all forlorn by your god. I've reclaimed my domain and I will neglect your existence.
