

Antagony (The Truth Is Written Between The Lines)

Lord Of The Lost

I have walked in line, I have made my confessions to ease my guilt

I have been Aligned, but now's the time

I want to know what's behind the end, Will I rise or I descend

Is there a savior to take me away to better place

No, no one is coming to save you and allay you, and no one is safe

I know it's too late, oh no, then only come to enslave you and to slay you

Don't try to escape, be sure it's too late for you

I want to know what's between the lines

I've been infernal, I've been divine

But all the prideful go down to hell

Am I safe down there when I cross the line.
