

A Song In The Key Of Sex

Lorene Drive

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I feel it when you're near me
How could I ever forget you

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I feel it when you're near me
How could I ever forget you

I've got a pocket full of roses
These thorns are sticking in my side
I didn't lie when I told you
I simply never ever lie

All I have are these promises that you gave to me
You haven't broken yet

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget you

I love the rhythm in your body
And I know you love it too
I love it when you're near me
God Damn, I'd love to forget you

Your best bet is some bad advice
So just paint me white 'cause I surrender
Forever

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget you

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget you
How could I ever forget you

Paint me white, it's all I need tonight
Paint me white, it's all I need tonight

I feel the rhythm in your body

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
How could I ever forget you

I feel the rhythm in your body
And I know you felt it too
I surrender so regretful
Your best bet is bad advice

So paint me white
