

His Lovin' Told Me He Was Gone

Loretta Lynn

I woke up just in time to hear that front door closing
I reached across to touch his face I was alone
Lately his eyes have had that look of leavin'
But his lovin' already told me he was gone

I never thought that this ole bed could feel so empty all alone
After all it's the one he loved me on
I noticed that his touch had lost some of it's feelin' mm
But his lovin' already told me he was gone

I never though that this ole bed could feel so empty all alone
After all it's the one he loved me on
I noticed that his touch had lost some of it's feelin' mm
Ah But his lovin' already told me he was gone

Yea his lovin' already told me he was gone
