

I'm A Honky Tonk Girl

Loretta Lynn

Ever since you left me I've done nothing but wrong
Many nights I've laid awake and cried
We once were happy, my heart was in a whirl
But now I'm a Honky Tonk girl.

So turn that Jukebox way up high
And fill my glass up while I cry
I've lost ev'rything in this world
And now I'm a Honky Tonk girl.

I just can't make a right with all of my wrongs
Ev'ry ev'ning of my life seems so long
I'm sorry and ashamed for all these things you see
But losin' him has made a fool of me.

So fill my glass up to the brim
To lose my mem-o-ry of him
I've lost ev'rything in this world
And now I'm a honky tonk girl.

All he ever gave me was a reason to go bad
And it's not hard to see just what I am
I'm ashamed and I'm sorry for everything you see
But losing him has made a fool of me.
