

Johnny One Time

Loretta Lynn

So he told you you're the dream that he's been searching for
And he told you that he'd never met anyone like you before
And I can hear him telling you your lips taste just like sherry wine

But did he tell you that he's known as Johnny one time

So he told you that he'd never lead your heart astray
And he told you that he'd love you forever and a day
And I can hear him telling you he's the shy and bashful kind
But did he tell you that he's known as Johnny one time

Did he tell you that your heart will soon become Another trinket on his bracelets of broken hearts
Did he tell you that the morning sun will find you Patching up your shattered pride and searching for the missing parts

Did he tell you that the special love you're savin'
Will disappear in shame and flames like mine
Did he tell you that he's known as Johnny one time

Did he tell you that your heart...
Did he tell you that your heart...
