The Girl That I Am Now

Mhm mhm mhm oh could he love the girl that I am now

Tonight I'm in his arms but he just don't seem the same I cheated and I'm guilty my heart can't stand this pain I let passions fill my mind from my heart and conscience blind I feel I'm mighty low and I pray he'll never know He love the girl I used to be could he love the girl that I am now

It almost breaks my heart when he says that he loves me I know that I'm not worthy and that's what troubles me If he do what I had done could he still feel just the same Or would he feel the way I do guilty and a shame He love the girl I used to be could he love the girl that I am now Mhm mhm mhm oh could he love the girl that I am now
