

You Wouldn't Know An Angel

Loretta Lynn

Because I won't give in to you you don't treat me like you should

You said that I'm too perfect then you tell me I'm no good

But everyone is guilty of sometimes doin' wrong

But even so you wouldn't know an angel if you saw one

No you wouldn't know an angel if you saw one

You won't see any halos on the women found in bars

I may not get to heaven but I'm not the only one

To tell you so you wouldn't know an angel if you saw one

Now you stand there accusing me of things you always do

And half the things you're telling me are things I never knew

I don't go places you go but that your way of think

If yours is yours you wouldn't know an angel if you saw one

No you wouldn't know...
