It's in this moment, hold on And everything has come apart It's in this moment, right now When it can come together

Raise your sights What's there to lose? Fall in the light Fall in the light Fall in the light

In all this trouble, hold on To the innocence with which you were born There's so much struggle, be strong Find the faith you need to carry on

It's a long night You're not alone Fall in the light Fall in the light

Sweet falls into place Sun through the haze Doesn't it feel a little like grace

It's in this moment, hold on When everything has come apart It's in this moment, right now When everything, come together

Raise your soul What's there to lose? Fall in the light Fall in the light Fall in the light

Hold on, hold on, hold on I know you'll catch me
