

Fell Into The Loneliness

Lori Carson

I should have had faith
I should have taken a chance
Should have been myself
I should have laughed

I should have risked something
I should have kissed you
I should have told you
I should have let you know

Instead I fell and fell and fell
Into the loneliness
I fell and fell and fell
Into the loneliness
I know so well

I could hear your laughter
I could see your breath
I could taste the winter
I could feel my heart race

Do you think that we could fall
And fall into each others arms
Just fall and fall and fall
Into each others arms
Who would it harm?

There were all these voices in my head
They said he won't so don't even try
Then listed all the reasons why

Snow was on the ground
You were in my reach
Walking there beside me
I should have turned and smiled

Instead I fell and fell and fell
Into the loneliness
I fell and fell and fell
Into the loneliness
I fell and fell and fell and fell
And fell and fell and fell and fell

I should have had faith
I should have taken a chance
Should have been myself
I should have laughed

Instead I fell and fell and fell
Into the loneliness
I fell and fell and fell
Into the loneliness
I fell and fell and fell and fell
And fell and fell and fell and fell
