

Stranger in His Kiss

Lori McKenna

Thanks for meeting me here
I know it's late but I've been up all night
I got the strangest feeling that my worst fears might be right

Someone said that they saw him with a woman and she wasn't me
And he's staring off in the distance and he's talking in his sleep talking in his sleep
There's a stranger in his kiss
Tastes like made up stories stolen moments and cigarettes
That secret on his lips
Seems so familiar so I'm wondering this:
Could a friend like you be the stranger in his kiss?
Why are you crying?

Look at you, you're falling apart
I would kill you with kindness
If I could only find it in my heart You were standing right there beside me when he said to the day he dies You dug your own grave when you made that bed and there you lie
there you lie

There's a stranger in his kiss
Tastes like made up stories
stolen moments and cigarettes
That secret on his lips
Seems so familiar so I'm wondering this:
How could a friend like you be the stranger in his kiss?
There's a stranger in his kiss
Tastes like made up stories
stolen moments and cigarettes
That secret on his lips
Seems so familiar so I'm wondering this:
How could a friend like you be the stranger in his kiss?
How could a friend like you
How could a friend like you
How could a friend like you
