

Take Me With You When You Go

Lori McKenna

When you're some place just out of reach or worse
When you're lost among the stars
When you're drifting all upon a memory
Search in your secret heart

Take me with you when you're gone
I want to walk beside you now
We're not meant to be alone
On this tired crooked road, take me
Take me with you when you're gone

When you've gone as far as you can from home
Caught every tide that held you down
When you can't remember what you're running from
And you still don't know where you're bound

Take me with you when you're gone
I want to walk beside you now
We're not meant to be alone
On this tired crooked road, take me
Take me with you when you're gone

When the corners of the page are wearing thin
And the last light of the day begins today
Take me, take me in, take me in

Take me with you when you're gone
I want to walk beside you now
We're not meant to be alone
On this tired crooked road, take me
Take me with you when you're gone
Take me, take me with you when you go
