

What Will You Say About Me

Lori McKenna

Forget the promises,
Swallow the pain,
give ourselves our sins
and learn to love again.
To look into new eyes is
as hard as it gets.
Everybody lives with a little regret.

What will you say about me
when she asks how'd you know about the color of the sun
going down to Mexico?
And when she starts to fall
will it scare you at all?
Are you gonna tell the truth
or hide it like a thief?
What will you say about me?

When you look over your shoulder,
will you see my mistakes
or will you see the love
that brought you to a better place?

What will you say about me
when she gets to your heart?
Do you tell her I'm still holding on to a little part?
And when she starts to fall
will it scare you at all?
Are you gonna tell the truth
or hide it like a thief?
What will you say about me?

What will you say about me
when she gets to your heart?
Will you tell her that I'm still holdin', holdin' on....
And when she starts to fall
will it scare you at all?
Are you gonna tell the truth
or hide it like a thief?
What will you say, what will you say about me.....?

What will you say about me?
What will you say about me?
