The Silent Mermaid

I am a mermaid in love with a man So I was punished, my tongue was cut off I can sing no more but I talk with tears Pain fills my heart drown in fear.

I spend my time gazing at ships passing by Looking for my beloved among the crew I swim towards him 'till he looks at me Hoping he will guess my desire.

If I only could sing I would have his heart In my hand.

He would be caught In the spell Cast by my melody.

(but) I'm a silent Mermaid I'm mute forevermore Even if I weep I wont be heard.

I am eager to save from a wreck My dear sailor to be close to him In a tight embrace we will reach the shore I will not let him leave me alone.

It's hard to remember how long I have been Waiting for my lucky day to come Though I have no voice My lips hope to kiss And my heart is filled Lórien
