

Say The Part About I Love You

Lorrie Morgan

I'm at least infatuated with your smooth southern style
And I've always been a fool for evil eyes and easy smile
So before my head gets light with promises and too much wine
Say the part about I love you, one more time

'Cos, I know you may not mean it but you say it so sincere
Easy come, easy go, when you tell 'em what they want to hear
Let me think I'm makin' love, you can think you're makin' time
Say the part about I love you, one more time

If you just keep me believing till the morning
Until the sun slips through the blinds
When you leave just kiss me gently
And say the part about I love you, one more time

If you just keep me believing till the morning
Until the sun slips through the blinds
When you leave just kiss me gently
And say the part about I love you, one more time

Say the part about I love you, one more time
Say the part about I love you, one more time
Say the part about I love you, one more time
