Hostages (Destiny)

LostAlone

When I'm on my own, I don't feel any worry
Because it's everybody for themselves
You can run away,
but you can't become somebody you are not
And it's everybody for themselves
We are hostages of our own attack
And the consequence there's no turning back
As we guard ourselves we were born to lead not follow
We are hostages of our own attack
And the consequence there's no turning back
As we guard ourselves we were born to lead not follow

When I'm on my own, I don't feel any worry
Because it's everybody for themselves
You can run away,
but you can't become somebody you are not
And it's everybody for themselves
We are hostages of our own attack
And the consequence there's no turning back
As we guard ourselves we were born to lead not follow
We are hostages of our own attack
And the consequence there's no turning back
As we guard ourselves we were born to lead not follow

We are hostages of our own attack
And the consequence there's no turning back
As we guard ourselves we were born to lead not follow
And we idolise what we can't resist
And tonight my friends we do not exist
As we guard ourselves we were born to lead not follow