

I Was Born To End This Way

LostAlone

I'm such a casualty of trust but you just can't love all that you desire
Replace the dreams that we erased
And when you fall in love all your screams are fire
Fall into the flame

I want to breathe eternally
I want to leave a legacy
I want to forge the memories
And once you're face to face with awe and thoughts of how to end this all
I've thought of how to end this all

I'm such a casualty of trust but you just can't love all that you desire
Replace the dreams that we erased
And when you fall in love all your screams are fire
Fall into the flame

I want to dream dream a therapy
I want to cause catastrophe
I want to feel a tragedy
And if you bleed in fantasy It was always going to end this way
Oh I was born to end this way

I'm such a casualty of trust but you just can't love all that you desire
Replace the dreams that we erased
And when you fall in love all your screams are fire
Fall into the flame (5x)
