

Orchestra of Breathing

LostAlone

Lost again and feeling like you don't belong
Evacuating dreams before they have begun
Voices in the breeze
As this city tries to sleep
I'm alone with my disease
If I answer will they leave

Fall and cover me in all your rays
Fall and cover me in all your rays
I know that it's hard
But I can't breathe the life into you always

Hope remains in fever with no sign of cure
A serenade a lament for a stolen thought
An orchestra of breathing
Sucking in and pushing out feelings
If you kill your faith today
It won't alleviate the pain

Fall and cover me in all your rays
Fall and cover me in all your rays
I know that it's hard
But I can't breathe the life into you always

Fall and cover me in all your rays
Fall and cover me in all your rays
I know that it's hard
But I can't breathe the life into you always