

The Bells! The Bells!!

LostAlone

Cathedral bells are ringing
Distrust is just the English way
Lets start at the beginning
We'll live to fight another day
Flame aroused all the notes became our sound and
Everybody hopes for change
But they don't know what to change about themselves
Cloak tied and bound throwing feelings at the wall and
Everybody hopes for change
But they don't know what to change about themselves
I wanted proof so I'd lie awake
On a painted voyage I charted fate
I wanted proof so I'd lie awake
And now I don't know where we are now, yeah
Flame aroused all the words became our vows
Everybody hopes for change
But they don't know what to change about themselves
Memories rewound every time I close my eyes
Everybody hopes for change
But they don't know what to change about themselves
