

Unleash The Sands Of All Time

LostAlone

Search yourself you are the world tonight
Would you give it all in slight in stealth
As we try, we try to fake indifference
But you can't disguise this love
To say goodbye is the hardest thing in life
And to let go

The ghosts in my head made me say what I said
You are never gonna fall in love with anyone but me
With a thirst and a hope and a loss of control
Do you want a ride?

Unleash the sands of all time
Serve your soul, nourish and enrich and touch
And do it all despite yourself
As we fly the heart of you is beating fast

Take control you give it all you got but you want more
The ghosts in my head made me say what I said
You are never gonna fall in love with anyone but me
With a thirst and a hope when I first lost control
Do you want a ride?

Unleash the sands of all time
For tomorrow
