Darkest Blue

Lostprophets

I can see into this abyss, There is no stopping myself from feeling this.

And I think it's coming through the air, It torments me, I try to move the dial and change this frequency.

Everywhere that I go, Misery will follow, And it won't let me go, And it won't let go.

I keep fading into you, Drowning in your darkest blue, A sorrow pulls me down, I'm weightless without sound, I still hear them calling.

There's no hope, There's no hope for me, Cause I can't silence the sound, They keep calling me. (They keep calling me)

Everywhere that I go, Misery will follow, And it won't let me go, And it won't let go.

I keep fading into you, Drowning in your darkest blue, A sorrow pulls me down, I'm weightless without sound, I still hear them calling.

I still hear them calling.

Everywhere that I go, Misery will follow, And it won't let me go, It won't let go, It won't let go.

I keep fading into you, Drowning in your darkest blue, A sorrow pulls me down, I'm weightless without sound, I still hear them calling, I still hear them calling, I still hear them calling, I still hear them calling,
